Christina Cameli is a well-known fibre artist and quilting teacher. You may recognize her from her online presence at her own website:

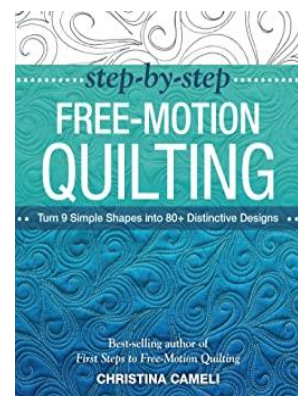

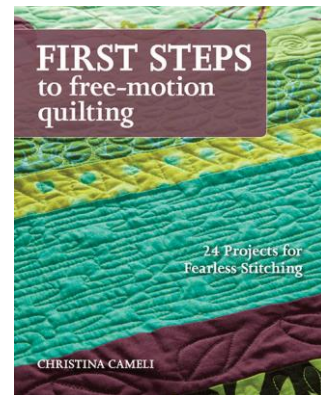

<https://www.christinacameli.com/>

She teaches free motion quilting on Craftsy, and has also published several wonderful books on quilting - see at the right.

Many of us have been looking for some help, either in starting or in developing our skills with free motion quilting. Christina will give us exactly the boost we need in a zoom workshop in November. In this workshop, she will get us started and provide instruction, and we will have the chance to try out what she is suggesting, ask her questions, and receive her comments. Her books are wonderful, but here is the chance to make them come alive and ask her questions in real time!

Here is her description of the workshop:

A short and sweet Free-Motion Quilting class for people who like to get down to business and try new things. Get your feet wet with free-motion quilting exercises designed to build your confidence and get you ready to play more at home.

To register, please email egqeducation1@gmail.com with your name and contact information, and put FREE MOTION QUILTING in the subject line. We will get back to you as soon as possible to give you information about how to pay for the workshop.
